SERB-ALLY CAVALRY IS THREAT TO MONASTIR

Bulgars Are Forced From Trenches by Troopers and Report Says German Staffs Are Abandoning Border City

GERMANS SUCCEEDED IN HOLDING BACK ENEMY

Battle in Dobrudja Promises Victory to Russ-Rumanian Arms, Declares Bucharest: High Peak Taken by Allies

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Serbian troops have advanced to within seven miles of Monastir and are engaged in sharp fighting with the Bulgars, said an Athens despatch today.

A Central News despatch said it was learned from reliable sources that the German and Bulgarian staffs have left Monastir.

The Bulgarians have been driven from one trench position after another and much of the fighting is going on in the open. For the first time since the Balkan fighting began, large cavalry forces are in clash at several points along the Serbo-Greek frontier.

Serbian cavalry is reported to have played a large part in the capture of several villages around Florina. The troops pushed the pursuit of the retreating Bulgars so rapidly that they were unable to make a stand until after they had crossed the frontier.

The Bulgarians are pillaging Monastir preparatory to evacuating the town, said an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Salonika today. Bulgarian commandos are ravaging the neighboring Serbian towns.

Berlin despatches today indicated that the great battle expected to develop along the new Russo-Rumanian front south of the Constanta railway may already be in its early stages.

SERBS TAKE HILL

The Serbians have captured the well fortified hill No. 2625, east of Berna, the highest peak in the Kamakchulan range, after most violent hand-to-hand fighting. It was officially announced today. The Bulgarians resisted with great stubbornness until they were practically wiped out, only fifty prisoners falling into Serbian hands.

Near Geresulka, the Bulgarians made vain counter-attacks, but were dispersed by French seventy-fives. On the left wing the enemy is still retreating on the heights of Elsonderi.

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—Bulgarian troops have driven the Italians from the villages of Nantica and Poroj, north of Lake Dolan, it was officially announced this afternoon. Near Florina allied attacks were repulsed.

ROMANIANS VICTORIOUS.

BUCHAREST, Sept. 20.—Rumanian troops have won a victory over the main Bulgarian, German and Turkish forces in a battle near Engen, Dobrudja, it was officially announced today. The fighting is continuing.

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—Stubborn and fluctuating battles are going on in the province of Dobrudja between Russo-Rumanian forces and German and Bulgarian troops, says today's German official statement. The Russians and Rumanians have hastily brought up reinforcements, the statement adds, and are defending their positions with great stubbornness.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 20.—The repulse of Russian attacks by the Turkish troops in Gallia after a forty-eight hour battle is reported in an official statement issued by the war office. The statement says:

Our troops in Gallia report violent attacks which the enemy made, interrupted from the morning of the 17th until the evening of the 19th and which were directed against them with manifold superior forces. They completely maintained their positions in the course of a forty-eight hour battle and captured 600 Russians, including two officers. Elsewhere there were no events of importance.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—British troops south of Arras have captured 200 yards of German trenches, says the official statement issued today by British army headquarters.

Pretty Little Nomad Not Neutral Philosophy Explains Age and Love Girl Contention of Gypsy Factions

AMELIA MITCHELL, WHO IS THE CENTER OF CONTENTION BETWEEN TWO GYPSY FACTIONS.

'Just Because' Sufficient, Particularly When It Comes to Choice of Husband

From the lips of pretty Amelia Mitchell, gypsy girl, versed not in the book learning of her fairer sisters, fell expressions of philosophy before judge, lawyers and spectators today, which emphasized with a nod of her plaited head that a woman's prerogative is not confined to any one nationality and that "just because" is sufficient reason to do or not to do, particularly when it comes to the choice of a husband.

To begin with, Amelia, she is 15 years of age or 19 years, a matter of contention between her parents and the parents of her fiancé, one thing is certain and that is that she does not want to return east with her father and mother and her six younger brothers and sisters across the continent to recover her from the clutches of a country-wide search of two years.

Amelia explained to Judge Ogden who sat in the habeas corpus proceedings over who's who as her customer.

GERMANS CAPTURE SOMME POINT IN VIOLENT BATTLE

Teutons Checked Under Withering Screen Fire, Except at One Position.

PARIS, Sept. 20.—The Germans hurled strong forces against the French lines north of the Somme last night in the most violent counter-attacks on the whole front from Clercy to the river.

The war office this afternoon announced that the Teutons were checked everywhere by French screen fire except at one point where they reached French trenches on the northern part of the slopes. On the southern end German detachments reached a few advanced posts, but were afterward repulsed.

ULTIMATUM SENT CENTRAL POWERS BY GREEKS, BELIEF

Demanding Immediate Return of Soldiers Taken Prisoners at Kavala.

ATHENS, Sept. 20.—There is reason to believe that the Greek government has sent an ultimatum to Germany and Bulgaria, expiring Wednesday night, demanding the immediate return of the soldiers taken prisoners at Kavala.

When the Greek seaport of Kavala was entered by German and Bulgarian troops, the city was garrisoned by the Fourth Greek Army Corps. According to an official statement issued by Berlin the entire corps, consisting of 20,000 men, asked the German commander for food and shelter and protection against the enemy forces. The statement said that to prevent any breach of neutrality the Greek soldiers would be transported to Germany, to be kept there as guests of the nation. The incident included a profound sensation in Greece and the ultimatum to Germany was bitterly denounced by the pro-ally press. Immediately after the new premier took office, news despatches from Athens said he intended to demand the return of the Greek soldiers from Germany and that refusal of this demand would be the signal for the entry into the war of Greece on the side of the entente.

DOCTOR SAW BOMB HURLED INTO PREPAREDNESS PARADE

THREE DEAD; 11 INJURED; ON SANTA FE

Westbound California Limited Jumps Rails Near Kingman, Arizona, Into Embankment: Cars Follow Engine in Fall

Doctors and Nurses Rushed to Scene of Accident From Nearby Cities: Road Open to Travel After Delay of Hours

KINGMAN, Ariz., Sept. 20.—Jumping from the rails on a sharp curve north of here while traveling on schedule time at a high rate of speed, the locomotive on the westbound Santa Fe train No. 3, the "California Limited," crashed down a steep embankment at 1:45 o'clock this morning and carried four cars with it. Three members of the train crew were killed outright and eleven passengers were injured.

The dead are Engineer J. Golden of Needles, Fireman Michael Osborn of Needles and an unidentified dining car helper. Mrs. George Overmayer of Topeka, Kansas, was the most seriously injured, having received a fracture of the right arm. Ten other passengers in the same Pullman coach with Mrs. Overmayer were slightly injured.

The accident occurred in the head of night when passengers were sleeping in slumber. The cause of the derailment has not been determined, whether it was a spreading of the rails, a defect in the driving wheels or a split rail. Without the slightest warning, the heavy locomotive leaped straight from the track at a sharp curve and plunged headlong down a high embankment.

So unexpected was the crash that the engineers and firemen could not save themselves by jumping from the cab. They were both found dead at their posts of duty. Telegraph poles were snapped off like matches as the train lurched against them in the fall. The dining car and one Pullman followed upon the roof of the mail and baggage cars, while five Pullmans remained on the track and traveled several hundred feet past the scene of the wreck before they came to a standstill. Some of the passengers slept through the occurrence and did not awaken until the wrecking train arrived.

All the injured passengers were in the first Pullman which turned up its side and slid down the embankment. Men and women were thrown from the berths and tossed about the car like peas in a rattle. That they escaped without serious injuries is considered remarkable. Mrs. Overmayer was in an upper berth and fell out against the roof of the car. Pandemonium reigned in the time in the car—shrieks of women and curses of men, as the occupants struggled in the darkness to regain a footing in the overturned vehicle. The lights went out with the plunge of the car, and pitch darkness added to the terror of the passengers. Members of the train crew worked rapidly to extricate the passengers from the car and attend to their injuries.

Doctors and nurses from Kingman and Needles were rushed to the scene in special trains, as it was at first believed that all the cars had left the track. The loss of the injured would be greater than it really was. A wrecking train followed and cleared the wreckage so that the train could continue on its way at 7:30 o'clock.

STARTLES JURY BY DESCRIBING DEATH TUBE'S FATAL FALL

Instrument of Destruction Not Contained in Suit Case, He Testifies, But in Foot Long Metal Cylinder BEARDED MAN SEEN TO SET GRIP

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Startling testimony was introduced in the Billings trial today when Dr. J. Mora Moss, a well-known physician, testified that he saw a dark, cylindrical object fall into the crowd at Steuart and Market streets and explode. He said, on cross-examination, that he thought that the bomb had been thrown from across the street, illustrating his testimony with a roll of paper, tilted at a forty-five degree angle. He said that the bomb was a cylinder in shape; about 14 inches long and 3 or 4 inches in diameter. Immediately after its fall into the crowd came the explosion, he declared.

Dr. Moss said that he was standing near the center of Market street with the Sons of the American Revolution just before the explosion. He was on the nearest car track to the point where the explosion occurred, his companions waiting for the order to march. Dr. Moss said:

I was standing there and all of a sudden I saw falling through the air and 12 or 13 feet above the sidewalk a dark object, cylindrical in shape. It was about 14 inches long and from 3 to 4 inches in diameter. Simultaneously with its landing in a crowd of people there on the corner I heard a detonation. I thought at first it was a signal to start; that one of the bombs had failed to explode in the air and had fallen into the crowd instead.

Cross-examination of the physician followed. When asked if he knew where the object came from he seized a roll of paper from the Judge's desk, tilted it to a 45-degree angle, and said that it looked as if it had been hurled in approximately that angle from across the street.

Prior to Dr. Moss' testimony Major W. T. Watson, G. A. R. man and a roofing and flooring contractor of Fulton and Steuart streets, Berkeley, testified that while forming with his comrades near the scene of the explosion they looked at their watches and saw that it was between 1:30 and 1:35 o'clock. At this time he noticed the suitcase on the corner and took cognizance of its close resemblance to one of his own.

John K. Miller of 3040 Market street, Oakland, with printing establishment at 589 Thirteenth street in that city, testified that he was at the fatal corner at 12:50 with other members of the Sons of Veterans. Twenty minutes afterward an old soldier, tottering from fatigue or heat, sat down on the suit case. Miller persuaded the old man to take another seat, and on attempting to turn the suit case over, found it heavy. He left it.

Alfred Christopherson, another Oakland witness, said that he took pictures of the Sons of the American Revolution, among whom Dr. Moss was standing, a minute before the explosion.

Judge May of Sutter county was sitting on the bench with Judge Dunne today, during the hearing of the case.

Mooney on the Stand

Thomas Mooney, labor man, who, with his wife, Rena, are co-defendants with Billings, was called to the witness stand. He said that he was on the roof of the Eilers building, Sixth and Market street, all afternoon of the day when the bomb exploded. He produced a photograph in which he was shown standing on the roof and viewing the parade. Mrs. Rena Mooney could not be seen in the picture. Mooney said that a policeman came on the roof of the building, warned some boys and then left again, but he was unable to give the man's name.

M. Prendergast, 1923 East 17th street, Oakland, who was with the First California Volunteers, testified that he saw a man with a heavy growth of beard place the dark suit case on the corner between 1:15 and 1:30 o'clock. The explosion followed.

Another witness who testified in favor of the defense was Mike Cassidy, a stevedore, who was situated on a roof across the street from the scene of the explosion. Testimony was in favor of Billings, Cassidy saying that he saw no man resembling the prisoner on the building, from which Dr. Moss said he thought the bomb came.

H. Frank was called and asked the whereabouts of Edward Nolan, co-defendant in the bomb case, during the Saturday when the bomb exploded. The answer was not allowed by the Court, evidence as to Nolan declared out of order during the trial of Billings.

Defense to Rest Tomorrow

The Billings defense will probably conclude before noon tomorrow, after which the prosecution will probably take the rest of the day and all of Friday for purposes of rebuttal. In the opinion of court attaches the case should go to the jury by next Monday.

Further testimony for the defense was presented with the calling of Mrs. Belle Hammerberg, sister to Mrs. Rena Mooney, who testified that she was on the roof of the Eilers Building with Mooney and his wife during the afternoon. She corroborated Mooney's testimony. The name of Martin Swanson, private detective, who has hovered as a dark figure in the ranks of the prosecution for some time, was brought into the trial.

Examination brought from Mrs. Hammerberg the statement that Swanson and Assistant District Attorney Brennan came to her home after the explosion and demanded papers belonging to Mooney. Mrs. Hammerberg said that she finally gave the papers to Miss or Mrs. McDonald, who was supposed to be connected with the board of health.

Desse Dam Victims May Number Thousands

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—The loss of life in the Bohemian flood resulting from the breaking of the White Desse dam may reach 1000.

Hundreds of persons are missing and it is feared their bodies will be found inside the houses floating down stream or entangled in floating debris. Between 200 and 300 bodies already have been recovered. The survivors are without food and many of them are partly clothed. Hasty relief measures are being taken.

The reason for the break in the dam is not yet known here.

VILLA WINS CHIHUAHUA IN SECOND ASSAULT

Communication Cut Off While Wire Carried Word of Shots Being Heard Outside of City: Fear of Attack Expressed

REBELS IN CONTROL OF IMPORTANT POSITIONS

Refugees From Capital Pouring Steadily Into Juarez; Trevino Harshly Criticized for Lack of Protection Against Bandits

EL PASO, Sept. 20.—A number of rumors were current here today that Chihuahua City was captured by Villa and his army and that the city was being held by the rebels. General Francisco Gonzalez, commandant at Juarez, and Consul Garcia declared the reports without foundation. According to reports, the attack was preceded by mutiny of a large part of the garrison. The bandits were said to occupy the municipal and federal palaces, the penitentiary and two fortified hills.

COMMUNICATION ENDED.

While a message was coming over the wire to Juarez from Chihuahua City that shots were heard outside the city and it was feared the Villistas were making another attack, communication failed and has not yet been resumed.

Refugees from the Chihuahua capital are streaming into Juarez and all are unanimous in their belief that Villa will again attack the city. They confirm earlier reports that the bandits were successful in their attack and withdrew voluntarily, and took with them field guns and ammunition captured from the Carranzista garrison.

Carranza's cavalry has given up pursuit of the Villistas and returned to Chihuahua City, General Gonzalez announced today.

Harsh criticism of General Trevino's failure to take precautions against attack are being directed at the commandant by Carranza officials and adherents on the border.

TREVINO CRITICIZED

High de facto officials declared that Trevino is either a Villista or a coward. It is believed that First Chief Carranza will again attempt to depose him from command of the de facto troops in Chihuahua. Twice before Trevino has refused to turn his command over to another when ordered to do so and ignored the orders of Carranza.

A decree by General Carranza was published today changing the date for the election of delegates to a constitutional assembly from October 15 to October 22. The assembly will convene at Queretaro on November 20 and the first formal session will be held December 1.

Among other changes in the election law made by the decree is one making the proportion return for deputies and senators one to each 70,000 of the population, according to the 1910 census. The ballot will not be secret.

Austro-German Press Urges Power for Pope

LONDON, Sept. 20.—A movement in favor of reestablishment of the temporal power of the Pope is reported by the Amsterdam correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company to have been inaugurated by Roman Catholic newspapers in Germany, with the idea of drawing the Vatican wholly away from Italian influence. The Cologne Volkszeitung, a Catholic newspaper, is quoted as saying Germany will give up its neutrality in the case of a papal guarantee adopted by the Italian government in 1870 at the time of the ending of the temporal sovereignty of the Pope. All Austrian and German Catholic newspapers are following this lead, the despatch says.

It adds that the movement is believed to have been inaugurated by Cardinal Hartmann, archbishop of Cologne, with the idea of gaining representations for the Vatican at the peace conference after the war.

S. F. POLICE BAFFLED BY HAWAII CASE

Island Authorities First Send Word to Watch Mrs. Louisa Cunningham, to Prevent Plot. Then Message to Drop Work

Woman Waiting, Sleuth Waiting, to See What Will Happen Next in Mysterious Movements Surrounding Journey

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—The mystery surrounding the visit here of pretty Mrs. Louisa Cunningham, whom the police were asked by Under Sheriff Asch of Honolulu to watch as the possible victim of a plot, was deepened still further this morning by the receipt of a Marconigram from the sheriff of Honolulu.

"Drop work on Mrs. Louisa Cunningham. Allow her to go on her way," Mrs. Cunningham is now at the Hotel Stewart waiting for her husband to appear as he promised and which the police can clear up several points that are worrying her. She says that she will return to Honolulu today on the Wilhelmina.

Mrs. Cunningham, whose husband, Clifford Cunningham, has been in California since January, arrived here yesterday on the Manoa expecting to find her husband waiting for her at the dock, as he had written her to come to him. He was not at the dock, but Detective David Murphy was. His presence there was due to a cablegram which he had received from Under Sheriff Asch.

"Please take charge Louisa Cunningham, passenger Manoa, arriving Tuesday. Will return following, Wilhelmina. Stranger in San Francisco. Lured there on false pretext. Do not allow her to go with anybody, not even husband."

When Mrs. Cunningham was shown this message she was completely at sea to account for it. She was also mystified by two wireless messages which she had received in Honolulu from her brother, Henry Zerbe, a telephone employee in Honolulu, warning her against her husband and asking her to return by the next steamer.

Mrs. Cunningham showed Murphy a letter from her husband, written in Carmel, in which he expressed the deepest affection for her and asked her to come to him here. If he was not at the dock to meet her, he requested her to go to the Gordon hotel and await him. Mrs. Cunningham said that there had been no trouble between her husband and herself.

At the Gordon hotel no one had

Wilson Angered By Maine Result

Blames Campaign Managers, Is Reported

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—That "Wilson demands ginger" is the announcement from Mr. Wilson's summer home. It appears that Mr. Wilson is highly indignant over the result in Maine and is disposed to hold his campaign managers responsible for it. "It is predicted, therefore, that there is a very bad quarter of an hour in store for Chairman McCormick," Mr. Wilson never reads any criticisms of himself and, doubtless, is wholly unaware of the drastic condemnation to which he has been subjected by Mr. Hughes, Colonel Roosevelt, and other Republican speakers. Close friends describe him as convinced beyond argument of his own popularity and firmly persuaded that nothing will prevent the American people from entrusting their government to him for another four years. But the Maine results were disturbing and, according to the correspondents with him, he purposes to make someone suffer for their carelessness in losing Maine.

Mrs. Ross Makes Fight for Liberty

Mrs. Emma E. Ross, 210 East Fifteenth street, today commenced a strenuous fight in the Superior Court against the charges of insanity which are preferred against her by her daughter, Mrs. Vanda Johnson, wife of Attorney Albert L. Johnson, son of San Francisco. Numerous witnesses have been subpoenaed to appear at the hearing, which is before Judge F. E. Ogden.

Mrs. Ross maintains that the charges were brought against her in retaliation for charges she made against her daughter several months ago, when she complained to the district attorney. On the other hand the members of the family assert that Mrs. Ross is not in her right mind and that the matters she complained of were merely hallucinations on her part.

Chemnitz Workers Reported in Riots

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Serious rioting, in which a number of lives were lost, took place at Chemnitz Saturday afternoon, says a Central News Despatch from The Hague.

The despatch says the rioting started when the workers arrived in heavy losses of Chemnitz workmen in the Somme battle.

Crowds assembled on the streets and sang "The Internationale." They refused to disperse and were charged by Hussars. Five Hussars were killed and forty wounded and about forty civilians were killed and 300 armed with revolvers were arrested.

Seen or heard anything of Clifford Cunningham. His wife is waiting, the police are waiting—to see what will happen next.

FORCE IS MENACE, DECLARES HUGHES

Candidate Talks Americanism in Address to Wisconsin Voters.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Sept. 20.—The pathway of "Surrender to force" Charles J. Hughes told an audience here today in discussing the Adams law, which is the basis for the administration of the Adams law, leads to but one end, "civil war." Mr. Hughes referred to the action of the administration as "unpardonable."

"The nation," he declared, "has no body could embarrass him by talking about Americanism."

"I am for the United States, first, last and all the time, without regard to any one or to anything else," he said.

"I speak with added emphasis as the friend of labor," Mr. Hughes said in discussing the Adams law, "when I say that the serious blow delivered recently at labor and enterprise in this country was unpardonable, that blow being the surrender of the people to arbitration and the yielding of reason to force."

"We look forward in this country to a future very uncertain unless we have peaceful settlement and arbitration by a careful examination and open mind consideration of the facts."

"When A does not agree with B they are not to fight it out in the public square," he said, "they are to fight it out in the court of law and fight it out there, not on the public square. We have had times when railroad companies refused to arbitrate with the labor unions. But we have had public settlement develop greatly since that time. We have a new spirit in this country, I firmly believe. All we have to do is to stand firmly for principle and we can get justice done."

"The other way simply means the rule of strength. There is only one end to that path and that is to the ruin of the country. Mr. Hughes then went into detail as to his views on the tariff. He spoke from a platform on the courthouse steps to an audience standing in the yard. Afterwards he held a brief public reception.

In previous addresses today at Sheboygan and Manitowish, where large crowds gathered, Mr. Hughes had to fight his way to the platform. He also spoke at the Chemnitz riots. He also spoke at the Chemnitz riots. He also spoke at the Chemnitz riots.

Carnahan Puts O. K. on Many Issues

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—Application to the state corporation department for permission to issue stocks, bonds and other securities were made by 2880 corporations, having an aggregate authorized capital stock of $869,005,104, between January 1, 1915, when the department commenced the administration of the blue sky law, and the first of this month.

H. L. Carnahan, commissioner of corporations, authorized during that period the sale for money or issue for property of $2,781,432 shares of stock, and the sale of bonds having a face value of $59,699,400. The stock was to be sold for a total of $246,353,759, while the bonds were to net the issuing companies not less than $27,059,581, making a total authorized selling price of $304,413,340 for both stocks and bonds.

On stock sales the department permitted maximum commissions and selling expenses of $6,584,395, which is 2.7 per cent of the selling price of the stock. Commissions in excess of 2.7 per cent of the selling price are not permitted in any case. There is no expense where a venture is financed by a few individuals or where shares are issued in exchange for property. The selling expense in speculative stock enterprise is usually from 10 to 20 per cent, although sometimes no commissions are paid. Where shares are sold by an operating commercial business the cost is never more than 10 per cent in selling shares.

In granting permits for the issuance of shares, in exchange for patents, undeveloped mining claims, formulas and contracts, Commissioner Carnahan often requires such shares to be placed in escrow until the shares have an established value through the financing of the project. In twenty months stock having an aggregate value of $44,536 has been ordered deposited in this manner, so that promoters must wait for their profits until they have made good to the investors who put cash into the various enterprises.

Prohibitionists in "Dry" Plea at Galt

GALT, Cal., Sept. 20.—Pleading for a "dry" land on the west coast from Mexico to the North Pole, Dr. Ira Landtrich, prohibition vice-presidential candidate, opened today his party's coast campaign tour in California. The campaign tour in Nevada yesterday.

Landtrich's arguments today were direct and particularly against the grape growers who, he said, are leading the "wet" fight and whose meetings the speaker said are being advertised as temperance gatherings.

Steps were to be made today by the prohibition league at Stockton, Tracy, Livermore, Niles, San Jose, Palo Alto, and tonight the campaigners will be in San Francisco for five hours. Following their meeting there they will continue down the state.

National Guard to Be Home Next Month

NOGALES, Ariz., Sept. 20.—All units of the California National Guard will be "home" by October 1st or within a few days after that date, according to a persistent rumor in military circles here.

The indications are that this rumor is well founded. Some equipment is already being packed for transportation and talk among the men of the "being back home" is becoming common.

It is believed that the return of the Californians from Fort Huachuca, where they are now "learning war," will be a signal for departure to California.

Prohibition Leaders to Speak in Oakland.

J. Frank Hanly, former governor of Indiana, and Ira Landtrich, presidential and vice-presidential nominees respectively for the prohibition party, will be speakers tonight at a rally at the Iltora Park amphitheater. The addresses will begin at 8 o'clock. The speakers will tell of the campaign issues of their party and of their platform in the coming election.

ROCK PILE FOR ARTHUR M. ADAMS

Young Southern Californian Must Serve 60 Days, Says Judge.

Arthur M. Adams, one-time society man of Los Angeles, and the hero of a number of sensational episodes which have attracted the attention of Southern California two years ago, will crash rock with other members of the city jail chain today when Judge Samuel J. Geary sentenced the youth to that term following his conviction yesterday on a charge of having stolen an automobile.

When Adams, freshly shaved, well clothed and debonair, appeared before Judge Geary, he asked that he be placed on probation, pleading that he had never before been arrested for a serious offense. This was denied by the court. Judge Geary said that he was not inclined to be lenient, as he considered the defendant's story a fabrication.

It was through newspaper clippings found on his person by Police Inspectors that Adams' record was established. Adams' record was established by a social favorite was revealed. He is the man who two years ago created a sensation in the city by his marriage to the daughter of the vice-president and general manager of Tiffany & Co. of New York, coming with her to California and then the two were introduced as husband and wife. Miss Conover, an unusually attractive blonde, was married to Adams in Los Angeles. At that time Adams was the owner of a large estate near Pasadena. He had the entire to all the homes of wealth and fashion in the South, and was arrested on one occasion for fishing the searchlight of his racing car through the dormitory windows of the fashionable Huntington Hall at Ononta Park at 1 o'clock in the morning.

Adams refused to talk to newspaper men now. It is not known how he lost his fortune. In the witness stand yesterday he told his wife, who was with him during the past few months, riding the brakebeams beneath freight cars and working in various parts of the Middle West as a harvest hand.

PRETTY NOMAD IS OBJECT OF CONTEST

Today, that she is "engaged" to young George Adams, son of a wealthy band leader, that she expects to marry him in two years, but that she may change her mind.

"Will the two years' postponement?" was asked.

"Because I want it," she answered. "Maybe I change my mind—I try him first. I like him now, maybe not after."

But the question of whether she is to return to St. Louis with her parents, Frank Mitchell and wife, and the little Mitchells who came for her, or to stay with the wealthy Adams band in Oakland, remains for Judge Geary to decide. After hearing from both sides this morning, the Court postponed the case until later in the day. The afternoon hearing commenced at 3 o'clock when further testimony was presented.

Colors of the rainbow flashed from all sides in the courtroom when the hearing was on. The Mitchells were alone. The Adams band was well represented, and all wanted to talk at once, both in broken English and in their native tongue.

The parents' side, however, looks betokening their innermost feelings.

The others were jubilant; their smiles and gestures made for the benefit of the girl, indicated the influence they could exert over her.

Both factions drove up to the courthouse in high-powered automobiles.

Before the hearing Frank Mitchell and his wife related their story to a group gathered to listen.

He told of the search he made for his daughter and of his surprise at finding her with Mark Adams and his band in Oakland last week.

Two years ago, it seems, Mitchell hired his daughter out to Adams for a short period at the request of Adams. Mitchell and his family then made a trip to Porto Rico and on their return to Chicago discovered that Adams had left, taking the girl.

During the two years Mitchell says that he has spent $3000 in the hunt for his daughter.

He produced railroad tickets from St. Louis to Oakland and return for himself and children and one for "Amelia" to go back on. His automobiles, two of them, are stored in Hammond, Indiana and in Oklahoma City.

During the hearing the attorneys sought to bring out that the quarrel over the girl had its inception in her earning power and her fortune.

One of the Adams witnesses was asked if the girl could not earn $4000 a year. She denied she could. However, she said that she could tell fortunes.

Health Officer Followed the Law

Now in Hospital; Children Got Even

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., Sept. 20.—Health Officer Charles Curran is nursing two broken ribs today because he followed instructions to see that the infantile paralysis quarantine of movie houses was observed. Children barred from the shows put banana peelings on the walk at his house.

Americans Are Seeing Their Native Land

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Americans are seeing America first and the western tourist season now drawing to a close, has broken all records. "The many millions spent yearly in traveling to European countries, are being spent right here in America," said L. M. Allen, passenger traffic manager of the Rock Island railway. "The tourist travel throughout the west is heavier than at any time in our history."

"The building of new roads in the Rockies is drawing the traveling public to see the beauty of their own country this year. The people of this country will, in the future, travel through the United States more than foreign countries."

CITY DREDGE TO WORK AT ALBERS

Keith Sends Crew to Make Channel on Western Front.

Under the direction of Harbormaster W. W. Keith, the city dredger today began deepening the channel and widening the cutting basin on the western waterfront, in accordance with the agreement the city entered into several months ago with the Albers Milling company. The work will take six months, according to Keith.

The channel is to be deepened to 30 feet, in accordance with the lease agreement. The Albers company has agreed to build the biggest mills in the west on the Oakland water front in return for certain work to be done by the city. The dredging process is to be diverted to the West Oakland marsh lands, the filling in of which the city officials and interested property owners have been considering for several months.

"Through the operation of the dredger in this Albers' work," Commissioner Harry S. Anderson said today, "I will learn the cost of dredging. In that manner I will be able to arrive at an estimate as to cost of filling in marsh land. I will then have a conference with the interested property owners, and we may arrive at some agreement as to this work."

Women Are Barred From Infantry Camp

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—To prevent the mingling of women after nightfall with the soldiers of the Fifth Infantry, now encamped at McKinley Park, the park will be placed under martial law after dark. The request that officers of the regiment be given permission to police the entire park was made of the City Commission by Dr. G. C. Simmons, commissioner of public health and safety.

Home Mosquito Not Dangerous

Only Wild, Roving One Menace to Humanity

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Quiet, home-loving, family-rearing mosquitoes, which dine out on human beings and then go home, are not dangerous, says the United States public service in a bulletin today, however, it says it is in more scientific phraseology.

It is only the merry ronders, the epicureans of the anopheles family, who go sipping here and there, and stagger away with a veritable epidermal debauch, that are dangerous.

But one mosquito in one hundred, says the government bugologists, is a possible infecting agent, and the female of the species is more deadly than the male.

In making the experiments five physicians and other volunteers volunteered to entertain the mosquitoes at luncheon. A very short exposure to bites was found to be sufficient for contraction of malaria.

Declares Suit Against Cort Only Technical

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—With a suit on file today for recovery of the Cort theater premises and back rent aggregating over $3000, Homer C. Cort, a local representative of the John Cort interests, declares the difficulty is merely technical and will be speedily adjusted, and Cort wired from New York that he knows of no reason for the action. A local realty concern is plaintiff in the action.

CONTEST IN G.O.P. FAILS TO DEVELOP

United Wing of Republican Party Wins Incipient Fight for Domination and Peace Marks Remainder of Session

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—The five political conventions—Republicans, Democrats, Progressives, Prohibitionists and Socialists—which met in convention here yesterday completed their respective tasks as provided by the direct primary law and adjourned since late last night. Many of the party delegates left on late trains for their homes and the remainder departed today after cleaning up the odds and ends of convention details.

At noon few believed that midnight would see the end of the sessions. This was particularly true of the Republican convention, where a serious struggle for control loomed as an imminent possibility. The contest for domination was short lived and the united wing of the party was victorious with many delegates to spare. Harmony marked the remainder of the Republican session.

No contests of consequence characterized the other conventions, and the programs which mainly had been prepared in advance, were carried out without delay.

The candidacy of Hughes and Fairbanks was given unanimous endorsement in the convention following the presentation of the report of the platform and resolutions committee. The night session was marked by three distinct demonstrations. First, when endorsement was given to the presidential and vice-presidential nominees; second, when the name of Willis H. Booth of Los Angeles, opponent of Governor Johnson for the Republican nomination for United States senator, was pronounced as one of the thirteen presidential electors; and thirdly, when Governor Johnson himself appeared at the invitation of the state central committee and declared for a united Republican party.

In his speech Governor Johnson complimented the convention for its achievements and urged the nominees to continue the work of legislative progress and accomplishment. He referred frequently to the state platform and reiterated his intention of supporting the national nominees.

The thirteen electors named are as follows: Mary Roberts Coolidge, Berkeley; J. P. Carlston, Oakland; John A. Britton, San Francisco; Thomas B. Montgomery, San Jose; A. E. Boynton, Oroville; Rudolph T. Wells, San Francisco; A. E. Chandler, Fresno; J. C. Needham, San Diego; Joseph Scott, A. J. Wallace, Willis H. Booth, all of Los Angeles; Dr. Louis H. Clarke, Riverside; and J. P. Baumgartner, Santa Ana.

The members of the state central committee will meet in San Francisco Saturday, September 30, for organization. The membership is composed of men and women prominent in party councils of the state.

Advancement Is To Be Watchword Republican Platform's Pledge to People

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—The Republican platform as adopted here follows:

The Republican party this year presents for the support of the people of California a Republican platform regenerated, reunited and progressive and commends that Republicanism to the attention of the people as a model of achievement and promise.

Since the emancipation of the Republican party of California six years ago, the unique record of this state in constructive legislation and administrative efficiency has placed California in the foremost rank of national leadership.

The reunited Republican party hereby pledges itself to the people of California that it will not take or permit any backward step in respect to these achievements and that it will go forward wisely and prudently in the task of making government more responsible to the people, legislation further protective of their interests and administration still more efficient and economical.

In nominating the Republican candidates for presidential electors, the Republican state convention commends for the support of the people of California the standard bearers of the Republican national ticket, Charles Evans Hughes and Charles Warren Fairbanks, in whose hands the destinies of the nation will be safe in the critical times to come.

At the head of the Republican ticket in this state the Republican voters of California have chosen Hiram W. Johnson their nominee for United States senator. His nomination is California's pledge to the nation that its voice in the national councils will be given on behalf of those same high and humanitarian principles which have characterized the legislature of California since he became governor.

This convention endorses the platform adopted at the national convention of the Republican party in June, 1916.

Woman's suffrage is a demonstrated and accepted success in California and therefore no longer an issue in this state. In favor of the submission and adoption of an amendment to the Constitution of the United States endorsing the franchise to the women of all states.

On these principles and the governmental record of the state for the past six years, we submit our cause, confident in the final result.

a state platform and declared their allegiance to the platform of the national organization. They also declared themselves in harmony with the national Progressive committee in endorsing the candidacy of Hughes and Fairbanks. The resolutions adopted by the fifteen delegates present, concluded with a paragraph congratulating the people of California in the candidacy of Governor Johnson for United States senator.

John W. Stetson, Oakland, former state senator, presided over the session.

Oratory Features of Socialistic Convention

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—The oratorically inclined delegates of the Socialist convention gave full rein to their powers yesterday over various planks for inclusion in the party platform. As a direct result the Socialists, although fewer in number than members of the other conventions, were last to complete their work. They went on record against any form of militarism and reiterated their policy of government ownership of all public utilities as well as social control of the sources of food, clothing and other necessities. The presidential electors, chosen at large, follow: Scott Anderson, Los Angeles; Joseph Bradstreet, Eureka; A. E. Briggs, Sacramento; M. P. Christensen, San Francisco; Mollie B. Flagg, Turlock; Arnold B. Holston, Los Angeles; C. W. Kingsley, Los Angeles; Ethel Lynn, San Francisco; W. Scott

POLITICIANS WAIT NAME OF CHAIRMAN

New State Central Committee to Organize in S. F. September 30.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—Who is to be chairman of the Republican state central committee? That is the question politicians are busy over today, now that the state convention has passed into history.

The newly appointed state central committee will meet at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco to decide this momentous question at 11 a. m. Saturday, September 30.

As the personnel of the committee was chosen by Governor Hiram W. Johnson, who absolutely dominated the convention, as an early vote of 68 to 44 in favor of Johnson men showed, it will be a Johnson man who will get the chairmanship.

The platform, written by Chester Rowell of Fresno, and unanimously adopted endorsed the candidacy of Charles E. Hughes for President, as well as that of C. W. Fairbanks for vice-president, and Hiram W. Johnson for United States senator.

The committee members at large are: H. L. Moody, Redding; Warren H. McBryde, Hercules; Henry J. Wideman, Vallejo; Mrs. L. H. Foulke, Gazelle; W. S. Conner, San Bernardino; Professor David P. Barrows, J. F. Charles, E. Snook, Dr. H. B. Mehrmann, Senator A. H. Breed, Miss Marguerite Ogden, Frank K. Mott, E. K. Strobbridge, Senator Edward J. Tyrrell, Paul J. Americh, Guy C. Earl, all of Alameda county.

I. A. Ogden, Redlands; William Mikulich, San Francisco; T. C. Hocking, Modesto; Chester H. Rowell, Fresno; W. F. Chandler, Fresno; Paul D. Swing, El Centro; Ed Fletcher, San Diego.

Dr. T. J. Cox, Sacramento; J. B. Olcese, Merced; R. L. Hargrove, Madera; Charles A. Whitmore, Visalia; M. C. Sunwalt, Tulare; W. Mason, Bakersfield; Robert Richardson, Sacramento; M. F. Freitas, San Rafael; E. H. Armstrong, Grass Valley; T. L. Chamberlain, Auburn; William P. Snyder, Jackson.

Lewis, Los Angeles, and Harry M. McKee, Fresno.

President's Speech Is Democrats' Platform

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—The Democrats, contrary to the belief of many of the delegates, concluded their convention late last night with the adoption of President Wilson's speech accepting the Democratic nomination as their state platform, the selection of thirteen electors and the naming of a state central committee of 234 members. By general agreement, one woman was selected on

Another Year to Be Added to Studies

SAN JOSE, Sept. 20.—Because of the failure of many young teachers in the studies of education, the normal school at least six months and possibly a whole year will be added to the time it takes to complete a course in the State Normal school, according to an announcement by M. E. Dalley, president of San Jose Normal.

Special stress will be laid on the rudiments of grammar and English and music will also receive added attention this year in San Jose Normal. Dalley announced an increase of 100 in the normal attendance.

Progressives Decide To Maintain Party

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—The California Progressive party at its convention declared its determination to keep alive a Progressive identity, and in conformity with that purpose named a state central committee with a minimum representation of three members from each congressional district. The committee will meet in San Francisco on September 30, co-incidental with the Republican meeting, and proceed with its organization. It was said by leaders of the party that Percy V. Long of San Francisco probably would be elected to succeed himself as state chairman.

The Progressives decided not to frame

Prohibitionists Stand On National Platform

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—Of the five political conventions in session here today, the Prohibitionists were the first to conclude their work and depart for their homes. The convention, represented by county delegates, adopted a state platform, which reaffirmed the planks of the national party, selected a state central committee of fifty-five members, of which Ernest E. Taylor of Los Angeles was selected chairman and named thirteen presidential electors.

The thirteen electors chosen were: Mrs. Annie E. K. Bidwell, Chico; Elam Biggs, Grass Valley; Robert Rogers, Stockton; Minnie Goldwaite, San Francisco; Walter Wolfoyer, San Francisco; H. A. Johnson, Berkeley; T. K. Beard, Modesto; Ada E. Ferris, Santa Barbara; A. K. Stenard, Pasadena; C. W. Silberman, Los Angeles; C. S. Corbitt, Ontario; Fred F. Wheeler, Los Angeles, and Wiley J. Phillips, Los Angeles.

The convention was presided over by Harley H. Gill of Berkeley, former chairman of the State Central Committee.

Find Husband Is Scion of Nobility

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 20.—A romance, in which a hotel clerk became the affianced husband of a charming English girl before telling her he was really a Swedish nobleman, was revealed in Santa Monica when Miss Isobel Anderson of London became the wife of Baron Botvid Tornerheim. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. H. Shawhan of the Presbyterian Church.

For eight years the new baroness has lived here, acting as companion and private secretary to Mrs. Rosamunde Borde, owner of the Windemere Hotel. Some months ago Botvid Tornerheim, under his title, as far as using it was concerned, obtained a position as clerk at the Windemere. The English girl and the Swedish were almost immediately attracted to each other. Miss Anderson returned to the hotel one evening wearing an engagement ring. A

U. C. Girl Is Bride in San Francisco

SAN LEANDRO, Sept. 20.—Miss Madge McCarthy, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth McCarthy of this city and a graduate of the University of California, and Leonard Voyer, an electrical engineer, were married in St. Mary's Cathedral, San Francisco, this afternoon. There were no attendants and only relatives and a few friends were invited to the ceremony, at which Father O'Mahoney officiated. A wedding dinner was held afterwards in the Palace Hotel.

Before attending the University of California the bride graduated from the College of Holy Names in Oakland. Voyer is a son of Oswald Voyer of Junction City, Wis., and is a graduate of a Wisconsin university. The couple will live in Oakland.

Month later she learned from her fiancé's lips that he was a nobleman of Sweden.

BELGIAN HEROES TO RECEIVE TOBACCO

Local Committee Plans to Send Smokes to Trenches of Europe.

Brave Belgian soldiers fighting to retain the last strip of their desolated country will be supplied with tobacco by Oakland citizens through a local committee of the Belgian soldiers tobacco fund which has been organized here as a sub-committee of the Oakland Civic Center. The committee is composed of Mrs. George J. G. Marsly, wife of the secretary of the council for the Netherlands; Mrs. V. M. Beckwith, Mrs. L. Carpenter, Mrs. H. P. Nottage, Mrs. C. J. Gaddis, Mrs. John Snook and Miss Marguerite Flynn.

Organization of the committee was effected yesterday following an address made in the Hotel Oakland before the Oakland Civic Center by Francis R. Jones of New York, organizing secretary for the fund. During the last six months approximately $40,000 has been contributed to the fund and expended in the distribution of tobacco to the soldiers. Each contribution of twenty-five cents supplies fifty cigarettes and a package of smoking tobacco.

The speaker told of the arrival of one million Belgian refugees in London and the manner in which they were welcomed and housed by the English. With these people destitute and dependent upon their hosts for food and shelter, 6,000,000 Belgians living under German supervision unable to communicate with the soldiers in the trenches, the men at the front are relying necessarily upon the generosity of neutrals.

M. F. Drien, Belgian consul in San Francisco, was present at the meeting and spoke on behalf of his compatriots.

UGH! A DOSE OF NASTY CALOMEL

It Salivates! It Makes You Sick and You May Lose a Day's Work.

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated and believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start your liver and clean your bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tonic tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate, so let them eat anything afterwards.—Advertisement.

Social Leader Maid of Honor as Maid Is Bride at Church

MISS RUTH COLLINS.

Ruth Collins Goes to Altar With Miss Oliveira

SAN LEANDRO, Sept. 19.—Wild was right when he remarked that nature imitates art and that truth follows slavishly in the footsteps of fiction. Witnesses to the wedding ceremony which united Miss Rose Oliveira and Charles Ibberson this afternoon in St. Anne's church in San Francisco could imagine for a moment that they were watching an episode from the second act of Barrie's ironic whimsy, "The Admirable Crichton." For they saw Miss Ruth Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hillard Collins, social leaders in the exclusive set of San Francisco and Oakland, acting as bridesmaid while the family maid and the family chauffeur were plighting their troth before the altar.

It is true that the bridegroom will not continue the career of Barrie's butler-hero by becoming the tyrant of the aristocratic family and ordering its members about at the dictates of his fancy, but in all other respects the similitude holds good. The social strata were for the moment upheaved and distinctions of daily routine were abolished. Moreover, the marriage ends the relations of the newly-wedded pair with their former employers, who will bid them farewell at a wedding supper to be given by the Collins family this evening.

The romance had its inception only a short time ago. Miss Oliveira, who is the daughter of J. R. Oliveira of Elmhurst, has been in the service of the Collins family for the last ten years and had endeavored herself to the members of the household as a trusted maid. Charles Ibberson, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Ibberson of this city, became chauffeur for the family shortly after they moved into their residence here about a year ago.

When the engagement became known nothing would satisfy Miss Ruth Collins but that she should have a part in the wedding ceremony. She had known Rose so long and had become so attached to her that participation in the rite was the only thing that would satisfy her. Mr. and Mrs. Collins felt heartily into accord with the plan.

So this afternoon Miss Collins stood beside Miss Oliveira and Ibberson was accompanied by his brother, Delbert Ibberson, while the formal sacrament of the Catholic church was celebrated. At the conclusion of the ceremony, which was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hillard Collins, the party returned to Oakland for the wedding supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Ibberson will make their home near Princeton, Placer county, where the groom owns a ranch.

ASKS DAMAGES FOR HURT.

Suit for $25,000 damages has been commenced in the Superior Court by Miss Clara M. Prentiss against the John DeMartini Company and Joseph J. Murphy, a chauffeur, for a broken ankle which plaintiff received when the defendant's auto truck crashed into a buggy in which she was riding.

SAVED HER DAUGHTER'S LIFE.

"Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy" saved my daughter's life when she had cholera morbus at the age of fourteen months. She vomited every few minutes and we were unable to keep any medicine down long enough to benefit her until we gave her this remedy. The doctor being at our house I asked him what he thought about our using it, and he said as he was unable to do the child any good, he had better use the second dose she kept down and in a short time the bowels were checked and she improved rapidly after that."—Mrs. Jennie Meyer, Lima, Ohio. REPORT TELLS OF OAKLAND CHARITY

Philanthropic Association Is Praised for Year's Work.

The annual meeting of the Associated Charities of Oakland was held last night at the public library. Judge W. A. Beasley of San Jose was the speaker of the evening and his subject, "The Child and the Juvenile Court."

Judge Beasley made a strong plea for trained workers and full co-operation with physicians to the end that mental defects should be recognized and given wise custodial care in institutions. On the other hand, he believed that the normal boy and girl, who through over-flowing life and spirits got into trouble, should meet with understanding sympathy.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.
The secretary, Miss Grace Graham, reported that 255 cases of need were dealt with during the past 12 months, involving 887 individuals, 15,804 visits were received, 3,641 letters and 434 letters written in the behalf of these applicants. The report added:

The year's work has been heavy, but the last few months have seen a great improvement as far as the unemployment problem is concerned. At present there is work for all, but the unemployed, those who through sickness, old age or other handicap are not equal to the struggle for a livelihood. Of course, a great many applicants are of this order so there is still a good deal of suffering to be relieved.

WORK WITH CHILDREN.
The Associated Charities has had in the last 12 months in its care 188 committed children, the juvenile court, boarding in good family homes and 247 cases where half orphan aid is being given, involving 548 children all living in their mother's homes.

The relief given through the association by the supervisors has amounted to: Grocery orders 4923, milk orders, etc., 23,948; fuel orders $48, medicine orders 234.

The various city officials have shown the most generous spirit in giving us aid and advice when we have gone to them for help with our problems; thanks are due also to the many individuals and agencies for public welfare that have co-operated in so kindly a way with us and we rejoice to say that there is a great fund of good will in Oakland that can be called upon by all of us when in need.

End of the Trail" is Franklin Feature

WILLIAM FARNUM.

"The End of the Trail," one of the most popular of recent Fox productions, is being shown at the Franklin for the rest of this week.

The picture has for a setting the Hudson Bay country in the dead of winter; a land which tests the mettle of the hardest. William Farnum, who is starred in the film, fits into his character of Jules le Clerc, a French Canadian, in an admirable manner. The story deals with his love for a girl who has been forced to marry a most despicable brute, Devil Cabot. Cabot is left for dead by an Indian and Jules marries Adrienne. A short time later Cabot, having recovered, returns, binds Jules and seizes Adrienne, whom he carries off to the deep woods. She lives in terror with Cabot, who treats her cruelly. Remarkable scenes from this part of the play to the close depict very accurately the lives of the people in the land of the northern lights.

Another feature picture on the same program is "The Little Liar," with Mae Marsh and Robert Harron. These two young film stars need no introduction to Franklin audiences and it suffices to say that they attain the same high standard of excellence in their work in this picture as heretofore.

Girl Contradicts Tale of Her Murder

DENVER, Sept. 20.—The "confession" of W. H. George, 32, of Thompson, Wyo., to the police of Cheyenne, Wyo., last night that he had shot and killed Miss Evelyn Rogers because of her refusal to marry him, was disproved when Miss Rogers was found in a rooming house, according to the police, said that he had been in a daze on Sunday, and had decided to confess and "face the consequences." He was taken into custody pending an investigation.

Miss Rogers said she went riding with George on Sunday, but had not seen him on Monday when he is said to have declared he killed her, near Littleton.

500 Postmasters Will Meet in Convention

DAYTON, Ohio, Sept. 20.—Five hundred members of the National League of Postmasters are here today in annual convention. The association includes postmasters of the third and fourth class of all the postoffices in the country. Fourth Assistant Postmaster General James I. Blakeslee, of Dayton, O. C. will address the mail shuffling gentlemen.

A motion picture showing the various stages through which a letter goes from the time it is dropped into the mail box by the sender until it is delivered at its destination, will be shown. The general public will be admitted to this exhibition. The meetings are being held in the Y. M. C. A. building.

ATTORNEYS AID "OAKLAND" WEEK

Home Industry Urged by Members of Bar at Special Meetings.

Lawyers have turned teachers in Oakland.

A corps of leading Blackstone exponents has taken up the work of teaching the public at large just what "Try Oakland First" means, and what the Chamber of Commerce and the United Commercial Travelers expect to accomplish through the Industrial Exposition which is to be conducted in the city auditorium during "Try Oakland First" week, September 23 to 30.

Under the leadership of Clifton Brooks, the attorneys are attending meetings of all kinds of organizations nightly, educating large audiences as to the industrial greatness of this side of the bay. And some hitherto little known facts are being made generally known for the first time.

"There are 1200 manufacturers in Alameda county, employing in the neighborhood of 16,000 employees," Brooks told a meeting of retail business men last night. "If we allow four and one-half persons, according to government estimates, to each employee, it is shown that there are 72,000 people dependent upon our local industries. Since the first of the year 3000 new employees have been added to payrolls, and the payroll has increased in the past six months $543,000."

"Practically everything is made in this county from aeroplanes to yeast, and commencing with cradles and ending with coffins."

This introductory statement completed, Brooks went on to explain in detail the variety of manufactures there are on this side of the bay, and gave figures explaining the magnitude of commercial undertakings in Alameda county. Incidentally, he made a plea for home industry, showing that the patronage of Oakland stores by Oakland residents will mean more prosperity, more employment and more population for the city. "Try Oakland First" doesn't mean, necessarily, "Buy at Home," Brooks said.

"This eight days of 'Try Oakland First' simply means this: We will ask the army of consumers and purchasers away from home to give the local retailer, manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, professional, amusement, hotel and restaurant man a chance to demonstrate his ability to meet their requirements."

Other attorneys concerned in the campaign are A. B. Carter, Charles Wade Snook, Ezra Decoto, S. J. Chase, Joseph Koford, T. P. Wittschen, O. D. Hamilton Jr., Harrison S. Robinson, Harry Price, E. Beardsley, Phil Carey, George Gamble, Harry Leach, Harry Skinner, De Lancy Smith, W. S. Wells Jr., A. C. Cunha, Vance McClymonds, H. L. Pulcifer and Milton Schwartz.

Negro Sought for Murder of Planter

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Sept. 20.—Robert L. Rutherford, aged 46, wealthy lumberman and planter, was shot and killed on his plantation near here yesterday. Poses are searching for Aaron Johnson, a negro tenant, who is said by other negroes to have killed Rutherford. They said the negro was angry because Rutherford upbraided him for spending his money for liquor instead of paying his debts.

Quantrell Lieutenant Takes Allegiance Oath

FORT WORTH, Tex., Sept. 20.—William V. James, a cousin of the famous Jesse and Frank James, one time bandit leaders, and a lieutenant in Quantrell's guerrilla band during the civil war, took the oath of allegiance to the United States here late yesterday. He had been a technical outlaw against the government for more than fifty years.

All that's Good for You in Oats

It is the fusel oil in most rolled oats that give them the strong and rancid taste. Sperry Pure Rolled Oats contain no fusel oil because that objectionable constituent is absolutely removed in dry kiln roasting. The Sperry Flour Company operates the only dry kiln in California.

The purity of Sperry Rolled Oats is demonstrated by the fact that it makes a perfect food for infants and convalescents. To get the superior rolled oats buy Sperry's in the air-proof "red" package.

It's Fine

Sperry Rolled Oat Cookies

1 cup butter, 2 eggs well beaten, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 2 cups (heaped) Sperry Rolled Oats, 1 cup chopped raisins, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 cups Sperry Flour, Pinch of salt.

Cream butter and sugar and add eggs, cinnamon, salt and soda. Mix well and add raisins and nuts. Mix again then add the flour and lastly the rolled oats. Mix all in well and drop from a spoon small quantities about the size of a walnut, on a well buttered pan about 2 inches apart. Bake in a moderate oven. Will remain fresh for weeks.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1916.

A TARIFF DODGE.

The increase of over $500,000,000 in imports and decrease of about $100,000,000 in customs revenue is given in a New York letter as the reason why the administration is compelled to impose numerous special taxes to raise $205,000,000, besides selling bonds for $130,000,000 and incurring indebtedness which will necessitate far greater bond sales, all to provide revenue to run the government. In short, the Underwood tariff law is a complete failure as a revenue producer.

Contrary to popular impression, the European war has not decreased imports. Compared with the fiscal year ended June 30, 1912, when the Payne tariff law was in effect, the imports for the last fiscal year show an increase of $544,620,000; but the revenue derived therefrom shows a decrease of $99,391,000.

Preparedness is given as one of the emergencies that necessitated the several methods adopted to raise more money; but if the Payne law were still in force, with an increase of over $500,000,000 in imports, the entire preparedness program could have been cared for without the imposition of a cent of special tax.

In this connection a circular issued by the collector of internal revenue, calling attention to the act of September 8, 1916, repealing Schedules A and B of the act of October 22, 1914, is interesting.

It reminds whom it may concern that it is no longer required to affix stamps to notes, certificates, bonds, stocks, bills of lading, insurance policies, steamship tickets, or other documents and papers required to be stamped by the act of 1914. Also it is no longer necessary to stamp perfume containers, cosmetics, chewing gum and other articles of that nature.

The interest centers in the fact that while the administration is turning this way and that to raise more money, it is relinquishing a source that already existed, and that was, a while back, considered by the Democratic financiers as a reasonable method of raising public funds. The conclusion must be that the removal of the tax from legal papers and gum and other articles was a political move, designed to impress the voter with the administration's successful financing. These articles are familiar ones, and the abolition of the duties upon them will most directly impress the people.

To the thinking person, much more numerous than some people seem to hold, this subterfuge will not get past. The taking off of a revenue tariff at a time when the demand for money is more insistent than when such tariff was put on and called "emergency," will not escape observation or the conclusion that it is simply a devious political move.

Rumania seems to be suffering for her temper. After debating for two years she suddenly cast her lot with allies, and entered at once into the world fray. But while the allies are prospering on almost every other front they are suffering repulses in Rumania. It is a serious situation for that country, threatening its capital. Rumania had better luck in the Turkish-Balkan war, being the only one of the Balkan states that was able to keep entirely out of it. Her good fortune did not stay with her in this greater trouble, taking the view that casting her lot with the allies instead of remaining neutral is to work her lasting injury.

PORK SOUTH OF MASON AND DIXON'S.

In the political Public Buildings bill reported to the House—every member understanding that it had no chance of passing—there were several items worthy of attention. Locally they are of particular interest in view of the appropriation of $650,000, made for Oakland, which under the last census of 1910, had a population of 150,174, and now can conservatively claim 235,000, few cities having brighter prospects for future growth. Mt. Olive, in the State of North Carolina, boasts of a population of 1071, and to that village, containing less inhabitants than Pleasanton, there was authorized in this Public Buildings bill the sum of $50,000! This is about $50 per capita. At this ratio Oakland would be entitled, under the census of 1910, to $7,500,000. Crossing over to Kentucky, the little town of Eminence was made happy with the prospect of $40,000, although it boasts of a population of but 1274 souls. Mt. Grove, Missouri, from which

State many illustrious Bourbons hail, copped off $40,000, with a credited population of only 1722. From the standpoint of commercial growth Oakland is splendidly located—few cities possessing greater advantages. Politically, it appears to be taboo at the present time, but as it would be rather inconvenient to pick up and move to south of the Mason and Dixon line, the best must be made of the situation, and the congestion at the postoffice endured.

PROPOSED LEASE SETTLEMENT.

It has been generally recognized that it would be detrimental to the best interests of Oakland if the litigation started by the city in relation to the leases on Brooklyn basin and along the eastern Oakland waterfront should drag along indefinitely retarding much needed development in that section. It would be particularly unfortunate just at this time when more activity is being displayed in harbor development than has been exhibited during the past decade. Public sentiment will endorse any fair compromise that may be arrived at between the city and parties in interest. As always follows in similar cases, both sides must make concessions.

In brief the plan provides that present holders of leases must surrender their claims to the right of continued occupancy of the land. In return they shall receive a guarantee of payment to them of the present value of their rights. This will be in the form of a cash credit with the city which may be used in rebidding to obtain a new lease. To prevent the land from remaining idle in case the leaseholders, in the opinion of the city, show a disposition not to make adequate use of the property, the leaseholders cannot be dispossessed of holdings until paid the cash credit representing the actual value of the rights.

In order to arrive at a fair value an appraisal board of three persons will be appointed by the city council and approved by the present lessees. These appraisers are to be selected with special reference to their qualifications for the particular work at hand.

Following the report of the appraisal board the land will be thrown open to all bidders, the lessees, is being given the preference in bidding by reason of the cash credit held by them. Finally provision is made for the appointment of a non-salaried harbor commission.

At the meeting yesterday Mayor Davis appointed, in conformity with the plan, a harbor commission consisting of Harrison S. Robinson, Robert N. Henningsen, John L. Howard, A. S. Lavenson and A. McMillan. These are high class appointments and a commission in which the people will place full confidence. As a matter of common courtesy, however, it would have seemed that in a move of this importance to which no political significance is attached, that the council should have been consulted, and particularly Commissioner Anderson under whose department all harbor matters are administered. The character of the men named is such, that Mr. Anderson, if we are not greatly mistaken, would have gladly given his approval. Cannot this important matter be taken up and considered without friction?

The caliber of the men named is such that they are not likely to give their time without compensation and probably without thanks if they are to be subjected to petty bickerings.

The famous juggernauts of war that the despatches have of late had accounts of are mechanisms of American conception and Californian invention. They are the familiar caterpillar engines, equipped for war instead of agriculture and the pursuits of peace, as we have been wont to see them. The caterpillar engine comes into a new use in this connection. Its ability to make its way over unusual difficulties—through swamps, over logs and piled up war debris, through craters made by shells, straddling trenches, and bucking barb wire—makes it one of the most formidable war weapons or auxiliaries that has been evolved from this great struggle.

The raid on gamblers in San Francisco Saturday night has some earmarks of being the result of a slipped cog. One of the places raided was Daroux'. The proprietor evidently was not looking for such interference. Together with Sheriff Finn he very recently grabbed the so-called Republican county committee, shaped its endorsement of candidates and no doubt felt that in so doing he had achieved something that entitled him to leeway in unlawful practices. Those who were served were expected to reciprocate. There was a hitch somewhere. The editorial that appeared Friday in a San Francisco paper to the effect that the gamblers had been driven out of San Francisco and had settled in Oakland, has an interesting slant in this connection.

The Supreme Court has refused to interfere with the primary law in a suit brought to restrain candidates for State offices running on more than one party ticket. The law is manifestly lame here, but it was designed to be. There was a deliberate attempt to destroy parties. The direct attempt failed, but the law as it was left goes a great way to accomplish its result. Many, if not most, the voters who want political contests decided on the square, believe the law should be amended to the end that abuses and undesirable possibilities may be eliminated; but the way to a correction does not lie through a court decision.

This is from the Stockton Mail: "A fussy old doctor somewhere up north wants teachers forbidden to use perfume in schools. And I'll bet he eats garlic whenever he wants to." Bet that item was never written by a man.

How signs belie statistics in the eyes of the editor of the Tracy Press: "Statistics tell us that we spend $142,500,000 yearly to the power laundries to keep clean, but when we meet some men we are tempted to say that statistics lied."

Something like a sentence in the immortal Declaration. It is from the Colusa Sun: "It is a matter of more than ordinary congratulations that the press of this state is coming to the front and taking the stand to which it is by nature entitled."

Livermore's share of speed fines, according to the Tracy Press: "The Herald announces that Livermore has received its share of the $360.50 speed fines collected by its officers, and that it amounts to $8.53. Wonder what the city will do with all that money?"

The spirit of progress in Chico, as it is inferred from this, which is taken from the Enterprise: "It is a shame that the ablest and most enthusiastic and the most efficient fire chief that Chico has ever had should be the principal obstacle to the removal of wooden awnings."

The Berkeley Gazette offers this for mastication: "It is claimed that consumers are charged $3,000,000 annually for paper and burlap used in wrapping meats, in spite of the fact that the wrappers don't chew much harder than a lot of the beef."

The squib builder is now due to be heard from to the effect that the long which the San Francisco man hurled at his wife, with the effect of breaking one of her ribs, must have been of a bride's banns. The loaf that mother makes, and even that of commerce, is not a deadly missile.

It seems incredible that an automobile can be driven from New York to San Francisco in 5 days, 3:31, over the mountains, muddy roads, reaches of sand, and rocky highways, but the record is indisputable. What might not be done with a roadbed all the way such as California has miles of?

Dances that are taboo at Richmond, according to the Contra Costa: "Vulgarity in dance steps, such as the 'farmers' walk,' the 'chicken trot' and the 'Washington waddle' has been tabooed by the faculty of the Richmond high school, following a demonstration. All of the steps were shown by four couples chosen expressly for that purpose."

Sarcasm from the Richmond Record-Herald: "It is hinted that the new wharf is going to call for jobs for three men—a wharfinger, a janitor and a watchman. Why not give the wharfinger a butler, a chauffeur and a valet? A watchman may be a necessity, but it is likely that the wharfinger will have plenty of time to sweep out the office."

Timely subject of local interest discussed by the San Jose Mercury: "The outstanding fact with regard to the ice patrol service is that it is markedly effective in lessening the danger to ships traversing the ice zone by the warnings which it sends out from day to day, which enable passing vessels to give a wide berth to these obstructions."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Both the local cotton gins are busy these days. The high price of cotton has stimulated the growers, and they are getting to market as rapidly as possible. Buyers are busy on the yards, too, and there is much activity exhibited.—Holtville Tribune.

Deputy County Treasurer Trainor has received a check for $92,053.28, inheritance tax on the estate of the late Frank H. Buck. Mr. Buck, who died last March, was a resident of Vacaville, and his estate was appraised at $1,500,000. The inheritance tax was the largest of its kind ever received in the county.—Vacaville Reporter.

Saturday morning, C. D. Willson was caught in a belt at the North-western planing mill and dragged into the pulley. He was killed instantly. An examination showed that his neck was broken and his skull crushed. At the time of the accident he was running the siding machine and was attempting to throw off the belt when he got caught in it.—Ukiah Dispatch-Democrat.

The Holtville savings depositors evidently prefer to deposit their savings in the vaults of the local banks to trusting it with Uncle Sam. During the last two years the hundreds of dollars that have been deposited in the Postal Savings at the Holtville postoffice have been drawn out and much of it put in the local banks.—Holtville Tribune.

ANOTHER CASE OF UN-PREPAREDNESS

ARTIFICIAL RUBBER, AN ACHIEVEMENT OF EUROPEAN CHEMISTS.

Governments have, for economic reasons, found themselves compelled to devise some way, outside of trade, to keep up their supplies of pure rubber or else go short of an indispensable material; they have therefore decided to produce their own and to draw up a scheme for assisting those rubber producers who have made some practical advances in the difficult and technical trade of manufacturing artificial rubber. The success of this extraordinary industry in France and Russia has been surprising. The French quite early in the war took the way of saving their rubber, or of "regenerating" the old and torn motor tires and other forms of old car outchout, they call crude rubber. Now rubber is sometimes employed pure, but usually it is combined with other substances, particularly sulphur. French chemists are now at work extracting the pure rubber, or croutchout, from old tires and vulcanized rubber. Washing with steam is the method usually adopted, which drives off the sulphur in fumes and melts the rubber without burning it. But the washing has proved only one-half the business. Meantime chemists of other governments have sought to escape from this dilemma. They are now making rubber from gelatine, but there is still the necessity of saving the old rubber, of washing it and of using it again for tires and tensile purposes. A very successful process has just been patented at Petrograd. In this new method the inventors resort to dry distillation of old and torn rubber tires, which expels the sulphur and oils. It is stated that the rubber which remains can be vulcanized so successfully that the final product has all the properties, elastic and compressible, of the best Para rubber. Reference has been made to the manufacture of artificial rubber, and considering its interest and importance, a few details may not be out of place. The French chemist, Paul Razoux, has a process which will be of great value to workers in this novel field. Gelatine and glycerine are the "main materials" used, and are prepared by melting and mixing with chromic acid, the material thus evolved having the properties of elastic masses and bands. The gelatine is heated in a vat, glycerine and then chromic acid are added, and the mixture carefully stirred. The final product, while hot, is cast in different shapes and sizes, and in its cold state is found to be elastic, like genuine rubber, and to possess the qualities of resistance to compression and traction. It is dark green in color, heavier than real rubber, but somewhat lighter than water. This artificial rubber should be covered, as it undergoes changes in the air, but when it is properly covered, as with a layer of genuine rubber, it is capable of the ordinary uses of the natural article. It can be heated and inflated, and makes good pneumatic tires, which are said not to burst. On account of its elasticity it can be used for making shock absorbers. The objections to artificial rubber are its weight and its tendency to atmospheric changes.—New York Sun.

LESSON FROM TENNIS COURT.

The victory of the Japanese, Kumasage, over our national champion, Johnston, of California, in the Newport invitation tournament, was an event that should start us thinking.

It may be that in the national championship at Newport someone may be found to defeat the Jap. Otherwise the championship of this country, and so of the world, will go to Japan. If Kumasage can win, all honor and success to him.

A few superficial people may still think that in Japan we do not have to deal with a really first-class people. The Japanese are interesting but backward, they say, and the individual American can lick three Japs.

Some of the superficial superior ones can understand tennis when they know nothing of world politics. Let them ponder on Kumasage. He has played a Western game a few years in Japan with no players of class to practice with. He comes to America and blooms into the first candidate for the national championship.

Let these superior Americans consider how well we should do against the Japanese at their game, war. They are keen recipients of what the West has to teach. Kumasage, learned in absentia, the tennis lessons of the Western world. He is passing a good examination. He and his friends have also learned what England knew of naval warfare, what Germany knew of land fighting. Then they add something Japanese to what the West taught them. So with Kumasage. He has an uncanny twist and drop in his drives which can hardly be volleyed.

So in trade. Somehow the British and American trade development in the far East ceased, replaced by Japan, who now progresses also in Russia and South America. They took our machines. They added something else of their own. It is quite an able little nation, worthy of our thoughtful consideration.—New York Mail.

WHERE LAND IS SLIPPERY.

Japan should be a little wary about trying to grab 60,000 acres of land down around the Panama canal. They ought to know by this time that it doesn't take a very great effort to slide that much land into the bottom of the big ditch.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Judge John A. Stanley is visiting his old home in North Carolina.

Miss Amy Requa and Colonel Oscar P. Long will be married in St. Paul's Episcopal church, October 7.

Company F, Fifth Regiment, will give a grand masquerade ball in Military hall, September 28.

Colonel John P. Irish on the gold standard side, and Judge E. M. Gibson in favor of silver coinage debated on "The Money Question" in the Baptist church, Twenty-first, near San Pablo avenue, last night.

A number of Oakland butchers today attended the excursion to San Jose of the Journeymen Butchers' Benevolent and Protective Association of the Pacific Coast.

THE MINT JULEP MYTH.

Colonel Watterson is doing what he can—and, as everybody knows, that is considerable—to destroy the mint julep myth as it applies to Kentucky.

He says, in The Philadelphia Ledger, that the mint julep is a popular fiction as far as the Blue Grass State is concerned. "It does not belong to Kentucky, and it never did, outside of the brains of novelists and paraphraser," but "is a Virginia institution." Summing up, the Colonel says:

"I don't believe anybody knows how the fiction about the Kentucky Colonel and the mint julep first started. Maybe 'The Boys' who for five years pictured 'The Boys' who for spirit as the 'national drunkard' until they met the little with the cherry cocktail to Charlie Fairbanks had something to do with it. It was not true in my case any more than the 'banks' case, for he is one of the most substantial of men. But it came near being serious for Fairbanks, for the Methodists, who believe what they read, refused to elect him a commissioner to their national assembly."

But while it is true that Kentucky may have "enjoyed"—or not, as the case may be—the reputation of the mother of the mint julep and, as Colonel Watterson points out, "the action is fostered on this day in Louisville," almost any state outside of prohibition limits, would be willing to take the credit for it, since Colonel after Colonel has pronounced it the julestest, and therefore the most palatable, of all summer concoctions for those who like to see the color in the cup. And far better for Kentucky the myth of the mint julep than the custom-old reality of "four fingers straight!"—Atlanta Constitution.

HAGAR AND THE BABY.

Judge Brown's action in deciding to keep an unfortunate mother and babe together, giving her another chance, is in line with the approved procedure in all of the lying-in charities and all charities whatsoever that are true to their name. Moreover, in direct contradiction to the malicious insinuation of those who are ever ready to criticize the newspapers, the very publicity has done the young woman and her cause a great deal of good. Hosts of new friends reading her "story" have rallied to her aid, and the only pillory she has suffered from is the pillory of helpful hands. She has saved the public and that it is not a philanthropically censorious and does not pass by on the other side, nor does it deny the right to her child and its upbringing, neither she nor the babe in these days, it is to be hoped, being forced to become an Ishmaelite. Again, is not publicity in cases of this kind, in whatever degree because of abandonment figures so conspicuous, the best warning for all concerned? Those who are caught by the law as well as those who are hidden?—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

AERIAL OBSERVATIONS.

To become a skilled aerial observer requires no small amount of training. Even with the aid of aerial maps, which try to depict objects as they look from above, the untrained observer several thousand feet above the earth has much difficulty in distinguishing objects for what they really are. The earth assumes a very queer appearance, slate roofs become pools of still water, and tents are indistinguishable from boulders, while troops standing motionless are said to be almost indistinguishable from clumps of foliage.—The American Boy.

MY ROSERY.

Five mournful bushes in a bed; Only one bud on each I see.

Although I count them eagerly each day— My rosery.

I wait, but still no blossoms come, A dark fear penetrates my mind; I quickly open one small bud, and there— A worm I find;

My neighbor's roses scent the air; And, though her gain is not my loss, To see her bushes loaded down with bloom

Makes me quite cross; It does.

It makes me cross.

Crashes Between Car Men and Traction Employees Worst in History of Present Trouble, and Jails Are Receiving Many

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—After a night of the worst rioting since the beginning of the present strike of car men in New York, which subway, elevated and surface cars were attacked, orders were issued today to the New York police that rioting must be put down at all costs. The authorities are convinced that the striking men do not intend to abandon their fight for recognition without a most desperate struggle and arrangements are being made for a more rigid guard than ever has been necessary for protection of the trains. Twenty arrests had been made early today in connection with the rioting and of the men now held fifteen have been charged with commission of a felony. This is a broad charge which can be made to cover the actions of any persons obstructing the progress of public vehicles, or attacking its occupants. Conviction on this charge means imprisonment for not less than five nor more than twenty years. It is the first time since the strike began that any men arrested for taking part in violent demonstrations have been booked on this charge.

An additional squad of plainclothes men in charge of a lieutenant also were sent out from headquarters. These men will be used as a patrol for house tops, from which elevated trains have been attacked repeatedly. Five hundred policemen were on duty last night in the district bounded by Sixth avenue and the Hudson river and Forty-second and Fifty-ninth streets. They were kept busy all night and far into the daylight hours suppressing sporadic outbreaks.

Subway trains were attacked for the first time since the strike began on that system when two of them were stoned in open places.

Surface cars were forced from their runs at an early hour. Although bombardments of elevated trains were incessant, the property damage was slight.

All other efforts to prevent the threatened general strike of 700,000 trade unionists in sympathy with the striking carmen having thus far failed, Mayor Mitchell decided today to make a personal appeal to Theo. Shonts, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, and the New York Street Railways to concede from his reiterated intention of refusing to deal with the strikers.

Hold Whist Tourney for Church Tonight

Elaborate plans have been made for the whist tournament to be held in St. Patrick's church, South street near Forsyth street, this evening for the benefit of St. Patrick's parish, of which Rev. Father Michael Barry is pastor. Tonight's affair is given under the auspices of the women of the candy booth connected with the fair to be held October 9 to 14.

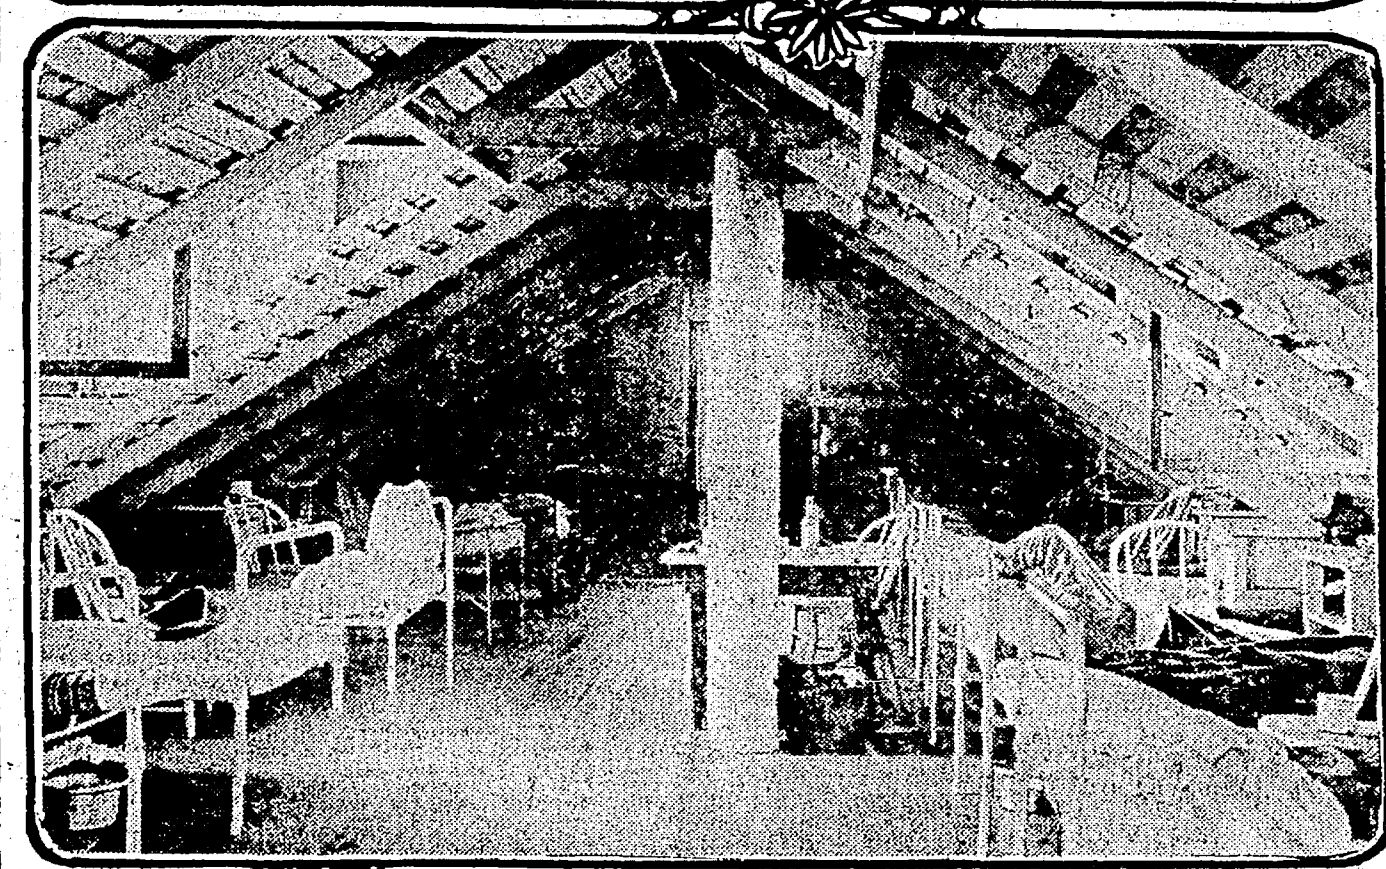

Supervisor John F. Mullins will be the director of the evening and will be assisted by the following recognition committee: Wm. J. Duddy, George W. Nolan, J. M. Samuels, William McNally, Owen Shortt, Dr. William O'Rourke, J. F. Kenny, Percy Read, Harry Hudson, Thomas E. Goodfellow and Leo Rappold.

The following girls will be scorers: Miss Ruth Dwyer, Miss Kathryn Mullins, Miss Gertrude Chambers, Miss Cora Engelhart, Miss Eva Lehman, Miss Alice Haggold, Miss Miss Jordan, Miss Kathryn Towns, Miss Margaret McNally, Miss Rose Brady and Miss Margaret Higgins.

BEGIN FIRST AID CLASS.

The fourth term of first aid work at the Young Women's Christian Association begins with the opening of the fall class tomorrow. Sixty Red Cross diplomas have been issued to the successful students of the former sessions. The opening session is under the direction of Dr. Ruth Risdon, assistant physician for women at the University of California.

ATTIC CARICATURES HOSPITAL INFIRMARY IS COUNTY'S SHAME PATIENTS SLEEP UNDER EAVES

Barracks Ward at County Infirmary. Interior shows foot of beds shoved under eaves so that sleepers will not bump their heads. Exterior shows single dormer window in attic ward, one on each side of roof. Also note line of refuse cans in foreground.

Barracks Ward Has Been Disgrace for Many Years and Is Still Menace to Health

(This is the fifth article of the series on the shame of Alameda county—the infirmary. The series, which was commenced last Saturday, deals not with persons, but with conditions. The first article described the wretched, sweltering tent in which a smallpox patient is isolated; the second the mingling of maternity cases with chronic sufferers and feeble-minded in one ward; the third the violation of the state tenement laws in the housing of indigents, and the fourth the leper colony. Today the conditions in the old barracks ward are told. The articles will attack no one—they will assail a condition that must be remedied before disgrace is converted into a pitiful tragedy.)

By HARRY L. SULLY.

"The gift without the giver is bare." This line from "The Vision of Sir Launfal" is not written above the gates of the County Infirmary. It would have tragic meaning there.

The citizens of this community have given this "home" to some 700 fellow human beings who have been torn and bruised and beaten in the struggle. But they have been given themselves with the gift. If they had it would not be necessary to write this series of articles.

These 700 charges upon the county constituted a responsibility which could not be evaded. The infirmary represents the manner in which the county has met this responsibility.

It was inadequate early in its history. As its needs increased, they were met by makeshifts. It was the gift, but the giver was far away. The barracks ward at the infirmary is perhaps one of the saddest illustrations of barren giving. It is the ward that takes care of the overflow of patients that cannot be accommodated in the wards and porches and decks of the main building, crowded though they are.

TRAGEDY OF INADEQUACY.

One might expect to find a ward like this in some improvised hospital "somewhere in France," or somewhere in war and cholera scourged Serbia. It was hardly thinkable that such a place could exist in this county for years; that it still exists.

The cellar dormitory, the wagon-shed dormitory, the leper huts, have been described. They are wretched

Spending Money for Glasses

When the glasses you require have been determined, the next important step is the fitting of the prescription correctly—then the price. If the prescription is not filled accurately, good results from your glasses will not be obtained and serious consequences may follow. Good glasses need not be expensive, but you have the right to expect that, irrespective of price, they will be absolutely correct. For nearly thirty years the California Optical Company has been making glasses as they should be made, at moderate prices. No lens leaves their establishment until it has been carefully inspected many times and the accuracy of the prescription verified. Nearly right glasses are not right—they must be exactly right in every detail. California Optical Co., 1221 Broadway, Oakland; 181 Post and 2503 Mission St., San Francisco.

makeshifts. They are part of the shame of Alameda county.

But the barracks ward is a building devoted to the care of bedridden, invalids, not persons who are at least able to be upon their feet, to care, in a measure, for themselves. It is a tragedy of inadequacy.

ATTIC WARD LOATHESOME.

There are eighteen beds on each floor, and the lower floor cubic air space comes barely within the requirements of the state tenement act. The tenement act requires about half the cubic air for each bed that is prescribed by standard hospital practice for sick wards.

The upper floor contains the infamous attic ward. Under a roof so low that a few beds were reversed, the patients slumped up to keep from striking the roof beams, the beds of sick patients are placed. The foot of each bed is close under the eaves. If the beds were reversed, the patients could not raise themselves without striking their heads. Their feet are against the shingles, and they can feel the heat of the sun beating through the slats in bed and touching the feet of the patients.

On the two days I visited the attic ward it was stifling under this shingle roof. There is a little dormer window on each side, and another window at one end. There is a door at the other end. This is absolutely the ventilation that is provided in this sick ward.

NO VENTILATION.

The day the photographs were taken a youth, one of the inmates of the institution, was struggling clumsily attempting to change the linen of one of the patients. He was sweating on his forehead, and the patient was also wet with perspiration. He feebly tried to aid in the process of removing his shirt, and his breathing was painful to listen to. It was hot and close in the ward although the three small windows and the single door were open.

A narrow twisting stairway leads down from this ward in which eighteen invalids are confined, to the ward below. I am informed that before Dr. Willis became superintendent this was the only exit from the attic ward. An outside stairway has since

AUTHOR NOT AN AFFINITY, HE ASSERTS

McCarthy Divorce Case Given
New Interest in Peninsula
Towns by Denial Filed by James Fellom, Family Friend

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Answer to charges made by Dr. Charles F. McCarthy that he was the alienator of Mrs. McCarthy's affections, was filed today by James Fellom, magazine writer of 775 Fourteenth street. This is the famous divorce suit which his long agitated residents of Hillsborough and San Mateo county. Fellom denied in court the allegations made by the physician in his cross-complaint for divorce, filed last March. In his answer filed with the county clerk, Fellom denies the charge that he was the affinity of Mrs. McCarthy.

Fellom is ready to take up the cudgels of defense Tuesday, when the case comes before the superior court of San Mateo.

The McCarthys were married in Oroville in 1903, according to the statement, and their marital troubles are alleged to have dated from 1905 when Fred St. Sure, former district attorney of Alameda county, representing Mrs. McCarthy, started divorce proceedings, charging cruelty and non-support. The case was dropped, following an agreement.

Mrs. McCarthy was left without resources, according to Fellom, and took up her abode in two small rooms over the garage, formerly the servants' quarters in the home.

In her divorce complaint Mrs. McCarthy alleges cruel treatment from her husband. She says she was beaten, dragged down stairs by the hair and that her life was threatened. Desertion and failure to provide for herself or child were also listed in the complaint.

CONDITION NOT NEW.

The ward is badly infested with bedbugs, and the nurse had to keep up a continual campaign to protect his patients. The floor is badly splintered and torn. It is an absolute impossibility to keep it clean. It is an impossibility to guard against germs finding grateful homes in the nooks and crannies and recesses of this whitewashed tangle of a hospital ward.

The conditions that exist today have existed for a long time. Nobody seems to know just how long. The photographs reproduced with this article were taken last week. After they had been taken I obtained a copy of the bulletin concerning the infirmary which I have since quoted in this series of the bulletin issued in July, 1912, by the Tax Association of Alameda county. It contained photographs identical with those taken for THE TRIBUNE. The two sets, taken four years apart, might have been taken within a few minutes of each other.

DECENT CARE IMPOSSIBLE.

There are no sanitary facilities in the attic ward. There are only two toilets and two tubs for washing. This is for the accommodation of thirty-six men.

There is no excuse for this condition. It makes the heart sick to realize how impossible decent care of the sick must be in such surroundings. The wonder is that the doctors and nurses at the infirmary do not give up in disgust, that they are able to do much as they have for their charges.

This is part of the gift of Alameda county to the sick and destitute who must depend upon the generosity and justice of this community for their well being. It is not a picture that we can contemplate with pride. Let those who say that all is well with the infirmary visit the barracks ward and attempt to square that statement with the facts.

Liken Queen's Guests to Ballet

Nobilities' Attire Under Criticism

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The scantily-dressed girl of the London music halls approach no nearer a state of complete nudity than some of the women who used to dine with Queen Victoria, wrote Arnold Bennett in the Westminster Gazette today, replying to General Smith-Dorrien and an anonymous writer who complained about the "parade of women in all degrees of nudity" on the stage.

"I have not yet observed in any review any woman whose 'degree of nudity' has appreciably exceeded that which was insisted upon by the late Queen Victoria at her own dining table and which is visible nightly in the drawing rooms of London," wrote the novelist.

General Smith-Dorrien complained that the appearance of scantily-dressed women in reviews had a bad effect upon British soldiers on leave of absence from the trenches.

Dragnet of Scandal Must Come Forward and Aid U. S. in Chicago Gang Prosecution

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Drastical plans tending toward learning from victims of the nationwide blackmailers' syndicate all they know regardless of testimony that might publicly soil reputations of scores of wealthy men and women, was one of the chief objects of the conference here today of heads of department of justice bureaus in Chicago, New York and Philadelphia.

Department officials admitted today that the very nature of the sordid system by which wealthy persons were forced to submit themselves to blackmail made it obvious that obtaining consent of witnesses to testify publicly regarding incidents which they paid heavily to keep secret, would be one of the most difficult features of their fight to send blackmailing ring leaders and their confederates to jail. It was explained the conference called today would therefore spend most of its time considering how results may be obtained with the smallest degree of notoriety for the witnesses to be called.

That the cases against the blackmailing syndicate will be pushed as positively stated at the department.

What weird things happen in our best years during war days is most amusingly illustrated in the upheaval in a New York ménage where a former belle and heiress of one of California's most affluent families is mistress. The fact that it is a peaceful upheaval makes it stranger.

The ménage is that of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Moran. Hugh Moran, who is a person of many millions and who is well known out here, had been devoting much of his time to national Y. W. C. A. work in New York when the war broke out. He also had a trio of charming children and a remarkable faculty for acquiring languages.

Had it not been for that gift he might still be in America at the head of his establishment. For Dr. R. J. Mott, the head of prison work in Europe, and a more famous personage than there was no individual so absolutely equipped by linguistic faculty as Mr. Moran to do foreign work among the soldiers of Siberia. Such is war!

So, when called, the young New Yorker departed for the frozen north of Russia and today is laboring hard among strange peoples. Meanwhile his mother, rushing to New York, came from her Kentucky home to the rescue of her young daughter-in-law—formerly a Miss Henry of California—while Mrs. Moran's own mother, Mrs. Hornby, went forth from Redlands, Cal., to take care of one of her three grandchildren.

But the other strange part of the story is that Mrs. Moran's mother, Mrs. Hornby, who has many friends around the bay and especially in Oakland, was spending the winter in Honolulu when she heard of her nephew's adventure. She highly disapproved of it, but she had a party of friends who sailed over to Japan. One journey led to another and she found herself in Siberia serving as her nephew's secretary.

Mrs. Hornby, who has many friends around the bay and especially in Oakland, was spending the winter in Honolulu when she heard of her nephew's adventure. She highly disapproved of it, but she had a party of friends who sailed over to Japan. One journey led to another and she found herself in Siberia serving as her nephew's secretary.

How the rest happened is a gap, but today she is in Siberia, where she never dreamed of being, assisting in the work among the soldiers. And the smallest of the Moran children is in Redlands with Mrs. Hornby.

Twelve or so of the younger matrons and girls will be entertained next Friday by Mrs. Thaddeus Sigmund at a luncheon and theater party in honor of Miss Lella Ewing, whose engagement to Wallace O'Connor was formally announced a fortnight ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Ewing came down today from Castella, near Shasta, where they have been spending the summer on their ranch and have returned to their home in Vernon street. Miss Lella Ewing, who has been spending the past two weeks awaiting her parents' arrival at the hotel, Neal Harris in Piedmont, will be one of the much-feted engaged girls of the autumn.

The wedding of Miss Georgia Merguire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Merguire of 1424 Avenue, San Leandro, and of this city, and Phillip Hanscom Landon, a Government engineer and graduate of the University of California, will take place in St. Paul's Episcopal Church at high noon, Saturday. They will have as bridesmaids, Mrs. Merguire's sister, Mrs. Landon, a brother of the groom, and the families and close friends are invited as guests and the ceremony will be a quiet affair. A wedding breakfast will be served in Hotel Oakland.

Mrs. B. A. Forrester was hostess at a large tea yesterday afternoon at her home on Tilden street, at Walker. About one hundred guests, both men and women, all of whom were particularly charmed by the engaging young singer, Miss Lucy Van de Mark, who accompanied in her interpretations by Miss Anna Furth, herself a musician of serious purpose.

Incidentally, Miss Van de Mark is formulating plans to go East—the beckoning land of the ambitious in art—to further herself for dramatic roles and opera. And thus does California maintain her record of furnishing America with her singers.

Among those who assisted Mrs. Forrester in receiving were Mrs. Alfred C. Read, Mrs. Louis D. Manning, Mrs. Frank N. Trower, Mrs. Herbert E. Brown, Mrs. Henry C. Haines, Mrs. W. H. Calkins, Mrs. Joseph Russell, Knowland, Mrs. Chester L. Noy and Mrs. A. Laidley, the latter the mother of the hostess.

One hundred and fifty cards for the wedding of Miss Ruth Tisdale and John Parker, an event of October 7 that will be of general interest to east bay society, had been sent out, and pink and white have been decided upon as the color scheme.

The ceremony is to take place at the home of the bride-to-be's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Tisdale, at the Tisdale home in Alameda. Mrs. Tisdale's sister, Mrs. Mary Paul Gardner will be matron of honor and there will be also a maid of honor, Miss Clara Franck. The groom-son chosen is Dudley Parker of San Mateo.

A quiet wedding of yesterday afternoon was that of Miss Rosalind Alice Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Meyer of Berkeley, and Walter Duane. The ceremony was performed at St. Mary's cathedral across the bay, with the Rev. J. M. Byrne officiating and but a few relatives and close friends in attendance. Immediately after the service the bride and groom left on their bridal trip. Mrs. Duane, whose engagement was announced but a short time ago at a tea given by Miss Alice Rowell in Berkeley, is a popular belle of the college town. Her future home will be in San Francisco, where Mr. Duane is engaged in business.

One of the festivities that is being anticipated with pleasure by the younger set is a dancing party that is being planned for the coming Saturday evening at her home in Tunnel road, at which simple refreshments will be served.

The affair is planned both a farewell to Miss Marjorie Nickerson, who is leaving on the following day for her last year at Vassar, and in compliment to Miss Betty Vent and her fiancé, Ormond Smith.

In the presence of the immediate families of the young people, Miss Lillian Ails of Alameda will become the bride of Harry Marshall of New York, this evening at a quiet wedding solemnized at Hotel Oakland by the Rev. Alexander Allen, rector of St. Paul's, officiating.

The ceremony follows close upon the announcement of the popular Eucalyptus City girls' engagement at a bridge party given recently by Mrs. James Short at her home in Ninth avenue. Following the simple ceremony and in wedding supper this evening the two will leave for their honeymoon of several weeks in Southern California and their return will make the bride and groom's return to the city.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mrs. W. Ails of Central avenue. Her fiancé is engaged in business in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Krusl, accompanied by their daughters, Miss Priscilla and Miss Mary Krusl, are motoring in the southern part of the state preliminary to returning Miss Priscilla to Miss Bishop's School at La Jolla. Meanwhile they are enjoying festivities at San Diego.

Mrs. Samuel Breck was hostess to the Monday Reading Club at her home in San Francisco street last Monday evening, entertaining over a score of prominent matrons of society who have been meeting with a study purpose in view every fortnight for the past few years.

The Monday Club includes among its members: Mrs. Harris Cobert Capwell, Mrs. George Child, Mrs. Franklyn Bangs, Miss Grace Fisher, Mrs. Henry C. Davis, Mrs. W. D. Huntington, Mrs. Samuel L. Shepard, Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook, Mrs. Charles Woodbury, Mrs. Frank Ogden, Mrs. William E. Sharon, Mrs. A. L. Lanningham, Mrs. Frank Greenwood, Mrs. B. C. Bradley, Mrs. William R. Davis, Mrs. W. Storer, Mrs. A. F. Connolly, Mrs. Samuel Taylor, Mrs. George W. Percy and Mrs. C. W. Kinsey.

A house party from the east bay will be entertained next week in Fresno by Mrs. William Blasingsame, who has been given by Miss Alice Rowell in Berkeley, is a popular belle of the college town. Her future home will be in San Francisco, where Mr. Duane is engaged in business.

MARINES REACTIONARY
AS SPECIALTIES GAINProfessionals Bear Market Slightly With Tactics in Exchange

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Prices at today's active opening were mainly higher, substantial gains being recorded by specialists with a better tone to rally. Marines alone were reactionary, opening at moderate advances, but soon falling back. Coppers were among the leaders, particularly Anaconda and zinc shares as well as International Nickel, which sustained yesterday's gains. Sugars, Mexican General Electric, Westinghouse, Studebaker, Maxwell and Baldwin Locomotive were higher by one to three points. United States Steel was again in process of absorption within a small fraction of its record quotation.

Professional tactics of the same character that provoked yesterday's reactionary period were employed in the first hour wiping out most gains and causing numerous losses. Rally, steel and the more prominent coppers displayed underlying strength. Pressure relaxed on short covering in the second hour, at which time many full recoveries were recorded. Fresh selling developed at midday.

Steel and several other leaders sought lower levels in the afternoon and Driggs-Sellsburg recorded an extreme decline of seventeen points, with 2 to 6 for some other specialties. Coppers and Nickel were firm to strong.

Selling became more urgent in the last hour, all active issues, coppers excepted, then being sold at minimum quotations for the day. The closing was heavy.

The session witnessed another turn over of more than a million shares, but the activity for the most part was of the long account, many declines being recorded.

Aren't You Satisfied With Your One Picturegame Set?
Then Submit a Second or Third, and Increase Your Opportunities!

Do all you players of the $2500 cash picturegame realize that the rules permit you to submit three different sets of titles for the 35 pictures?
In each set of answers you may submit as many as five titles for each picture; so, if you wish, you may make as many as fifteen different answers for a picture, by submitting three sets.
Of course you may not wish to submit more than five titles for many of the pictures. You may decide that within the range of five titles you can submit all the titles that the judges possibly can name "best." But with other pictures you may not be so certain. Perhaps you have found six or seven or more titles, all of which seem likely

You can now gratify a lifelong desire for a Baby Grand Piano

Nearly everybody who owns a piano hopes some day to be the proud possessor of a Grand Piano—heretofore greater cost has interfered. But now you can gratify your long cherished desire. We have had built for us the ALDRICH BABY GRAND. The specifications agreed upon by the manufacturer and ourselves are such that we can fully commend its value as a musical instrument and protect it with our guarantee. Three conspicuous features characterize the ALDRICH BABY GRAND—

1. The Tone—This is a real Grand Piano. It has identically the same keyboard as the larger and more expensive Grands. The tone and action are good, and, cased in choice mahogany, the architectural beauty is very pleasing.
2. The Size—It takes up no more room than the ordinary upright when placed across a corner or in a nook. Upon request (by phone or postal card), we will gladly mail, without charge, a Tissue Paper Pattern, the exact size of this little Grand, which, when spread out on the floor, will show how conveniently it will fit your room.
3. The Price—It is priced no higher than a good upright—$495. We will arrange convenient payment terms and make an allowance on your present upright.

The ALDRICH BABY GRAND will add distinction to your home, and will always be a source of gratification and pleasure.

Probation System Is on Trial, Says Koford
Preferring to stand trial on a charge of failure to provide for his family rather than undergo the probation officer's investigation, Bernhard Bahusen has withdrawn his plea of guilty and demanded trial. He will be tried before Superior Judge Ogden.
Assistant District Attorney James M. Koford, referring to the Bahusen case, stated in court that the probation system is being "badly stretched" in this county and is "providing a means to allow guilty men to escape" in many instances.
"The probation system is on trial in this state," he said. "Unless the authorities are careful some legislature will remove the law from the statute books."

Star Jumps States Appears on Screen

Mae Murray Rides Far to be in Cast

One frequently hears of motion picture producers sending their companies far and wide in order to get the desired atmosphere for a production, but it is not often that a star is brought across the continent for that purpose. Such, however, was the case with Mae Murray, formerly star of the New York Polles, in the Famous Players picture, "The Big Sister," which plays at T. & D.'s Oakland Photo Theater until Saturday.

Miss Murray journeyed from Los Angeles to New York where the picture was produced under the direction of John O'Brien. It is a fascinating insight into how the other half lives.
Billie Burke in "Her Vow Fulfilled," nineteenth chapter of Gloria's Romance, a Pathe Weekly and an animal comedy complete the bill.

FIELD FOR TRADE OF U. S., IS CHINA

Julian Arnold, American commercial attaché for China and Japan, will speak on "American Trade Possibilities in China" at a luncheon in his honor by the Chamber of Commerce in the Commercial Club at 12:15 tomorrow afternoon. Arnold, having spent fourteen years as a diplomatic representative in the principal cities of China, is thoroughly familiar with commercial and economic conditions in the Orient.
After the address Arnold will give a short talk descriptive of China and the Chinese, illustrated by lantern slides.

In an interview Mr. Arnold said: "Not only does Japanese activity in China offer no threat to the trade of the United States, but there are many opportunities in China open practically to no other nation except America. It all rests with our merchants, manufacturers and financiers whether the United States will secure the rich trade field or allow other nations to take it."
China needs American capital, and with the enormous gold reserve caused by the war now in this country, there is no reason why this capital should not be profitably invested in China, thereby securing large returns on the investment and developing a profitable market for American manufacture.

"China is the greatest opportunity America has and yet less is being done to take advantage of it than in any other section of the world."

Funeral Services Held for Master Mariner

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock for Captain William Tribble, retired master mariner and ferryboat captain. Following services in San Francisco, interment took place at Cypress Lawn cemetery.
For many years Tribble had been a resident of Oakland, living at 5517A Telegraph avenue.
Tribble was 70 years old, a native of Kingston, Mass., where he early became interested in the sea-faring business. He was a member of California Harbor, No. 15, Master Mates and Pilots of the Pacific. Surviving him is a widow, Annie A. Tribble, and three sons, George, Frank and Henry Tribble. He was also the father of the late William Tribble.

Requiem Mass Is Said for Michael Scanlan

Funeral services were held this morning at 9 o'clock for Michael Scanlan, a former resident of Pinole, widely known in Contra Costa county, where he was born 50 years ago. Following the requiem mass at St. Francis de Sales church for the repose of his soul, the body was removed to St. Mary's cemetery for interment.
Scanlan was a brother of Jefferson D. Scanlan, a county official associated with the sheriff's office. Surviving him are two other brothers, Henry P. and D. C. Scanlan; and four sisters, Mrs. N. A. Ball, Mrs. Louise B. Edes, Mrs. D. G. Troy and Mrs. Mary O'Neill. He was the husband of the late Lella Scanlan.

Baby Throws Self Into Fire; Burns to Death

FRESNO, Sept. 20.—Katie, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kasper Horst, made a bonfire in her backyard and threw herself upon it. She died a few hours later of burns that covered almost her entire body. A playmate ran to the house, informing the mother of the tragedy. She arrived too late to save her little girl from an awful death.

THAT RUPTURE
A truss will make it safe and comfortable. There are various kinds of trusses for various kinds of ruptures and you will find any style you need at The Owl Drug Store.
The one shown in the illustration is an improved French truss. It is suitable for both men and women.
This truss is narrow and very light in weight. The body is covered with kid and it is also padded to protect the hips. It is made of the very finest French steel and is very flexible. The price, single style, is $2.75. We carry a number of other styles of trusses ranging from $1.50 to $5.00.
You can have a truss fitted by people who have had special experience in that line. No charge is made for this service.
